Why choose the Istec Toolkit?

Istec have been operating since 2008 and specialised in health and safety training on an international basis. During this crises and pandemic we need to combine new information with the knowledge we have built over the years. We understand the relevance of legislation, international standards, a risk based approach and have developed these toolkits to include our personal expertise.

By buying one of these toolkit packages you will save time, effort and dispose of all the fake news. Learn how to determine the relevance and impact of legislation for your business.
